

ACER Journal Award for Outstanding Paper by an Early Career Investigator

The RSA Publication Committee and ACER leadership is pleased to announce the recipients of the ACER Journal Award for Outstanding Paper by an Early Career Investigator. ACER – Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research – is the journal of both RSA and ISBRA. The committee was impressed with the high quality of the contributions and congratulate all who were nominated.

We are pleased to award two Early Career Investigators:

Anny Gano

SUNY Binghamton (currently at Medical University of South Carolina)

Gano, A., Vore, A.S, Sammakia, M.N., & Deak, T. (2019) Assessment of extracellular cytokines in the hippocampus of the awake behaving rat using large-molecule microdialysis combined with multiplex arrays after acute and chronic ethanol exposure. Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research, 43(4), 640-654.

Ruschelle Leone

Georgia State University

Leone, R.M. & Parrott, D.J. (2019) Acute alcohol intoxication inhibits bystander intervention behavior for sexual aggression among men with high intent to help. Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research, 43(1), 170-179.

Each awardee will receive a $500 check and will be recognized both by RSA, ISBRA and ACER. They will also receive registration for the 2021 annual RSA meeting.
